Norwich Bulletin, Willimantic Office, 23 Church St. Telephone 105.

What Is Going On Tonight.

Pythian Sisters, Burlington Temple, No. 2, meets at 8:30 Main street.

The first annual meeting of the Willimantic Y. D. Veterans' association was held Thursday night at the Y. D. rooms at the State Armory, a large number of the members being present. The meeting was called to order by President James J. Lee at 8 o'clock. Routine business was transacted and an election of officers for 1920 was held, with the following result: Re-elected, President, Captain James J. Lee; Vice President, Captain Dr. W. P. S. Keating; Secretary, Thomas A. Shea; Treasurer, Patrick Haggerty; Auditors, Elliott P. Moshier and James Fogarty.

It was voted to hold a Y. D. banquet in the near future at which the newly elected officers will be installed. The Emeralds of this city are to lineup against the Manchester K. of C. basketball five here tonight and as the boys from Siltkown have been playing a good game this season and the Emeralds are unbeaten, a good game is sure to come off.

The Windham Girls' club held its annual meeting Thursday night at the rooms on Main street. The regular business meeting was held, followed by the election of officers.

Michael Brinko of Windham who was operated on for appendicitis at St. Joseph's hospital last week has returned to his home in that place.

Six prisoners were put to plea on Thursday, at the opening of the January criminal term of the Windham County Superior court, four of them pleading guilty. Judge John P. Kellogg, of Waterbury, occupied the bench. Prayer was offered at the opening of the session by Rev. Arthur F. Bochart, rector of the local Episcopal church.

The first case was that of Alfred Thibault, who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, committed in Plainfield, October 5. Judge Kellogg sentenced him to four months' imprisonment at Brooklyn jail, where he had been in custody for the past three months. The attorney representing the accused stated that it was his client's intention to return to Canada upon his release from jail.

Fred Syle, of Eastford, charged with assault, breach of the peace, abusive language and intoxication, October 8, alleged to have occurred in an altercation with James Syle, entered a plea of not guilty. He was given a jail sentence of two months on the first count, judgment being suspended for three months, during which time he was to report once a week to Grand Juror George Reed, of Eastford, who was appointed special probation officer by the court. Judgment was suspended on the other three counts. The accused is an ex-soldier and his former record is said to have been good.

A plea of guilty was entered by James Sherman, charged with breach of the peace, intoxication, theft and destruction of property, October 27. Sherman was charged with having, in a fit of rage after an argument with his landlady, cut up the top of her automobile, doing other damage to various parts of the car. Sherman had paid his landlady the sum of $25.00 as part restitution for the damage he had caused, this being paid while he was confined in the jail. He was sentenced to three months in jail.

A charge of assault and rape on the person of Alma Maynard, in the town of Thompson, December 7, was entered against Harold Crea of that place. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

The case of Lena M. Muller, of Ashford, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon, committed in Plainfield, October 27, was called on for trial. She was sentenced to one year in jail by Judge Kellogg, execution of judgment being suspended for a like period, during which time she must report at least once a month to James E. A. Knowlton, special probation officer. Although Mrs. Muller went through her trial without showing any trace of excitement she broke down after she had been sentenced. The assault took place after a writ of attachment had been served on Mrs. Muller, for defamation of character by Schuh, on behalf of his eleven year old daughter, Eva. Mrs. Muller dressed in working-man's clothing, met Schuh by the roadside on Franklin Hill, on the morning of August 27, and pointed a shot gun at him and pulled the trigger. The gun failed to go off the first time, but the second trial resulted in Schuh receiving the charge in his left knee. Mrs. Muller then struck him over the head with a milk pail and Schuh had several scalp wounds. She was arrested later that day by Deputy Sheriff William E. Jackson and was bound over to the superior court under bonds of $500. Mrs. Muller in court Thursday morning entered a plea of guilty to the charges. State's Attorney Charles E. Sparks of Putnam, representing the state, stated that the woman was not a criminal at heart and had a good record. It was also pointed out that she had three small children, age five, seven and eight years, who would be left alone if she was committed to jail, consequently a lenient sentence was given her.

Ira Fowler of Woodstock, charged with assault upon and abuse of his 13 year old daughter, Edith, on October 17, entered a plea of not guilty to the charges. Court adjourned at 1:15 o'clock until Wednesday of next week.

Julia Armstrong, widow of Nathan L. Bishop, died Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ashton Persons of No. 315 Prospect street, after a lingering illness. She was born in Mansfield, October 8, 1841, daughter of George B. and Della Arnold Armstrong. An obituary notice of Mrs. Bishop, long a prominent resident of Norwich, appears in the Norwich News.

Company B was too fast for the boys from Jewett City, Wednesday night and walked off with the game by the score of 31 to 26. The first period of the game was entirely in the favor of the local five and the score at the end of the play was 24 to 16 in their favor. In the second half the Jewett City boys took a harder but were unable to overcome the lead Company B had piled up in the first stanza. The line-up and scores follow:

Company B. Jewett City.

Morison, f. Barry, g.
A. Lewis, c. C. Benjamin, f.

Nathan A. Oquishewitz, of Mansfield Four Corners, re-enlisted for one year, Thursday, for duty in the ordnance department at Springfield armory. Oquishewitz's previous record of service for Uncle Sam was from February 27, 1918 to November 29, 1918. He is the second man that has signed up at the local recruiting station for a year at the Springfield armory. Oquishewitz has been discharged from the service. The supply at the Victory Cottage on Main street has not been entirely used up and any ex-service man can obtain his Victory buttons by applying at that place, showing his discharge papers.
